1 PROJECT OVERVIEW

What is Dunton Garden Suburb?

- 1.1 Basildon Borough Council and Brentwood Borough Council are working together to investigate whether land to the west of Laindon (in Basildon Borough) and to the east of West Horndon (in Brentwood Borough) has any potential of meeting some of the development needs of both Councils through a cross boundary development opportunity. The total area is around 420 hectares: approximately 156 hectares of which are in Basildon Borough and approximately 264 hectares are in Brentwood Borough.
- 1.2 An informal planning concept related to this land, hereafter referred to as Dunton Garden Suburb, was developed to test the idea of a cross boundary development that could potentially be home to 4,000 – 6,000 houses, retail and leisure use, Gypsy and Traveller pitches, commercial, open space, access to local facilities and Country Parks and improved infrastructure routes.

Memorandum of Understanding

- 1.3 This followed both Councils signing a Memorandum of Understanding on 4 November 2014, which set out the initial terms and conditions for the joint project arrangements to explore the concept further in accordance with Section 110 of the Localism Act 2011, also referred to as the Duty to Cooperate. Both Councils agreed to prepare a joint consultation document to explore whether there is any potential to develop the land.
- 1.4 It should be noted that as an informal planning concept being tested through public consultation and debate with local communities and stakeholders, it did not feature as a joint project in either boroughs' emerging Local Plans. However it should be noted that a proposed development of 2,300 homes and 5.5Ha of employment land to the west of Basildon was contained within the Basildon Core Strategy Revised Preferred Options Report 2013. The site was also set out as a potential option for development in the Brentwood Strategic Growth Options paper.

Public Consultation

- 1.5 Both Councils subsequently prepared and approved a document for public consultation. This document explored the issues, location merits and constraints of the potential Dunton Garden Suburb. The consultation document and more information was available to view on both Councils websites at www.basildon.gov.uk/dunton or www.brentwood.gov.uk/dunton
- 1.6 A public consultation was held for 10 weeks between Tuesday 6 January and Tuesday 17 March 2015. The consultation period was originally agreed and advertised to end on Tuesday 17 February 2015, but it was extended by one month to enable as many people as possible to consider and comment on the proposals.

2 STATEMENT OF CONSULTATION

What is a Statement of Consultation?

2.1 This Statement of Consultation explains how both Councils have consulted the public, as well as other stakeholders and interested parties, and provides a summary of their views of exploring the Dunton Garden Suburb development opportunity. It sets out:

- Which bodies and persons were invited to make representations and through what means they were enabled to make representations.
- A summary of the main issues raised by the representations.

2.2 Despite the joint consultation not being a formal part of either Council's Local Plan preparation, in the spirit of early engagement on possible development proposals, as advocated by national planning policy, the consultation was undertaken to meet statutory requirements set out in the Town and Country Planning (Local Development) (England) Regulations 2012 (Regulation 18), Basildon Borough Council's Statement of Community Involvement (2011) and Brentwood Borough Council's Statement of Community Involvement (2012). These latter documents are available to view on both Council's websites.

to consider the project further, the Memorandum of Understanding will need to be reviewed and new working arrangements put in place to proceed jointly. Should this not be the case, the Memorandum will expire, but both Councils will continue to work together on strategic planning matters and cross boundary issues as they arise, as required by the Localism Act 2011.

What Happens Next?

2.3 This Statement of Consultation will inform both Basildon Borough Council and Brentwood Borough Council's decision about whether there are planning merits to consider a cross-boundary development option at Dunton in their respective Local Plans, through their own separate decision-making processes. Should the decision be taken

3 CONSULTATION WITH PUBLIC BODIES

- 3.1 Section 110 of the Localism Act 2011 inserted Section 33A into Part 2 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 which imposes a duty to co-operate in relation to the planning of sustainable development. The duty relates to local planning authorities as well as other public bodies.
- 3.2 Although this consultation does not form part of either council's Local Plan process, it does demonstrate compliance with the Duty to Co-operate. Both councils have consulted a number of statutory consultees such as the Environment Agency, Historic England (formerly English Heritage), Natural England, Network Rail, Highways England, Essex County Council, and adjoining local planning authorities, amongst others.
- 3.3 Regular liaison was undertaken with Thurrock Borough Council, given the London Fenchurch Street railway line boundary to the South shared with Thurrock, and Essex County Council in light of their role as education, public health and highways authority for the area, amongst other roles.
- 3.4 Other Local Authorities within Essex were notified and advised of the consultation through collaborative working groups such as the Essex Planning Officers Association (EPOA) – Planning Policy Forum etc.
- 3.5 A list of public bodies that were consulted is included in Appendix 1.

4 PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT

- 4.1 The following methods of communication and engagement were carried out.

Consultation Events

- 4.2 The Councils held a series of consultation events. The first were two stakeholder workshops open to landowners, residents, businesses within the site area boundary only, as well as Parish Councils within or adjacent to it. Following this four drop-in events were held which were open to the wider public, two in Laindon (Basildon Borough) and two in West Horndon (Brentwood Borough) held at different times of the day to provide opportunities for the maximum amount of people to attend. Neither were location specific and both were open to people of either Borough to attend. Both council's Planning Policy teams presented the planning concept at these events and were available to answer questions, gauge people's opinions and encourage formal responses to be made to the consultation. The schedule of these events is set out in Table 1.

Council Websites

- 4.3 Participation in the consultation was facilitated via both Councils' websites. All documents were available to view online and comments could be made online via Basildon Borough Council's consultation portal. Direct links to the portal and more information were provided on both Council's websites at www.basildon.gov.uk/dunton and www.brentwood.gov.uk/dunton. In addition, comments were accepted by email to either Council at planningpolicy@basildon.gov.uk or planning.policy@brentwood.gov.uk, or by in writing by post.

Notification Letters

- 4.4 A joint letter and email was sent to all residents and businesses within the potential site area prior to the consultation start date (see Figure 3). This set out details of the consultation, invited recipients to attend the specific stakeholder consultation event, and informed them of the public drop-in events that would also be taking place.
- 4.5 Basildon Borough Council wrote to all people and organisations registered on its Local Plan consultation database. In addition the Council publicised the consultation in its Borough Diary publication (Spring Edition 2015), which was circulated to 78,000 Borough households. Twitter and Facebook were also used to advertise.

4.6 In addition, Brentwood Borough Council also undertook a stage of its Local Plan consultation at the same time, called Strategic Growth Options. This allowed for all notification letters and emails sent to those on Brentwood Council's consultation database to also be informed about the Dunton Garden Suburb consultation. This included information about Dunton Garden Suburb a Borough Bulletin newsletter, distributed to Brentwood residents with a free weekly newspaper on Thursday 5 February. This Local Development Plan edition newsletter was distributed to over 29,000 residents and businesses in Brentwood Borough and advertised through Twitter, Facebook and the Council's website. It included answers to frequently asked questions regarding the Local Plan and Dunton Garden Suburb consultations, which are set out in Appendix 2.

Posters

4.7 Posters were used to advertise locally and raise awareness of the consultation and public events. These were sent to local Parish Councils to post on community notice boards, village halls and community centres. They were also posted in libraries across Basildon and Brentwood Boroughs. Separately designed "reminder posters" were used to re-advertise once the consultation period was extended and seek further involvement.

4.8 Posters were put up to advertise the consultation at Basildon Rail Station from the week commencing 2 February and Laindon Rail Station from the week commencing 16 February. This covered the last four weeks of the extended consultation. This helped raise awareness with a large number of commuters regularly using the closest existing station to the site area each day. West Horndon Rail Station does not have any platform advertising.

- 4.10 Several joint press releases were made by both Councils which were sent to all press distribution lists, made available on both websites and shared on the Councils' Twitter and Facebook.

- 4.11 Every Friday, the Leader of Brentwood Council holds a press briefing at the Town Hall which is attended by Brentwood Gazette, Brentwood Weekly News, Made in Essex and Phoenix FM. Following the briefing, Phoenix FM does an on-air roundup of the briefing and what has been discussed. Phoenix FM is a community radio station for Brentwood Borough and Billericay which broadcasts on 98fm and is also available to listen to via the internet. They have 28,000 listeners a month. The Leader spoke about the Dunton Garden Suburb consultation at his briefings held on Friday 9th, 16th, 25th January 2015.

- 4.12 The Leader Column on Brentwood Gazette, as well as a number of other articles in local newspapers such as Brentwood Weekly News/Basildon Echo, Brentwood Recorder, and Essex Enquirer, also mentioned the Dunton Garden Suburb Consultation and gave details on how to get involved.

- 4.13 Interviews with Cllr Phil Baker (Chair of Planning at Brentwood Borough Council), Cllr Colin Foan (West Horndon Parish Council) and residents at a drop in event in West Horndon for the Dunton Garden Suburb consultation were broadcast on 17 January on BBC Essex, clips were in news bulletins throughout the day. It had 213,000 listeners in a week.

4.14 The media is a key publicity tool and local media sources were used to broadcast the consultation on the Dunton Garden Suburb. The first joint press release was issued on the 16th December 2014 prior to the release of the Dunton Garden Suburb consultation. Follow up press releases were then issued by the Council on the 6th January (when the consultation started), 15th, 26th and 30th January. These releases were all picked up by newspapers and a number of stories relating to the consultation were published. The final release in March alerted the public to the extended consultation period.

4.15 Local newspapers, namely the Basildon Echo, the Billericay & Brentwood Gazette, the Basildon Yellow Advertiser, and the Essex Enquirer ran several news stories relating to the Dunton Garden Suburb. The information contained in these news stories originated both from the Council press releases and from other sources, highlighting the reach of the consultation. The stories were mixed in terms of opinions, which helped to raise the profile of the potential joint project and of the consultation. News stories ran continuously throughout the consultation period with the first being released in the Basildon Echo prior to the start of the consultation.

Social Media

4.16 Tweets/facebook posts were scheduled between 6th January 2015 and 17th March 2015 to encourage residents to take part in the consultation. There were daily tweets either promoting drop-in events, press releases or the consultation itself. Messages were sent out throughout the consultation period linking back to the Basildon & Brentwood Council websites.

Internal Communications

4.17 Internal communication from both Councils was undertaken throughout the consultation period. All staff emails, staff bulletins, Leader's messages, and blogs were sent out during the consultation period to engage with Council staff, and to help them pass on information through word of mouth to residents and businesses. Drop-in sessions were also held for members of staff at both Councils.

5 RESPONSE TO CONSULTATION

- 5.1 1,397 respondents submitted 1,528 representations regarding issues related to the Dunton Garden Suburb. Details and summaries of all comments are set out in Appendix 3.
- 5.2 Of the 1,528 responses 42% were from people living in Langdon Hills, 11% from Basildon, 9% from Laindon, 4% from Dunton Village and 3% from West Horndon. 14% of respondents were from unspecified locations and approximately 12% from other settlements within the Basildon & Brentwood Borough's, with the remaining 5% coming from elsewhere.
- 5.3 Of the total responses, 84% objected to the proposal, with 6% supporting the idea, but 3% of these were conditional in their support. 6% of respondents had concerns or mixed feelings about the proposal without showing clear support or objection, with 3% just stating observations relating to the scheme. The remaining 1% made either no comment or their comments related specifically to the Brentwood Strategic Growth Options consultation (carried out at the same time). A more detailed breakdown of where people live who responded to the consultation and the types of comments raised are shown in Figures 7 and 8.
- 5.4 Following the consultation, it is clear that there are three main issues that respondents are most concerned with:
- Potential environmental damage and erosion of Green Belt protection.
 - Infrastructure provision not being able to cope with additional development.
 - Delivery feasibility of the project.
- 5.5 Many comments suggest both Councils consider spreading the growth needed in other areas rather than concentrating the majority of development in one area. Others add that the scale of Dunton Garden Suburb would make it unlikely to make a contribution to either council's five year housing supply and so support the view that additional land should be allocated elsewhere.
- 5.6 Other respondents suggest that more work and evidence is needed before a garden suburb might become an option.
- 5.7 Some local residents are very much concerned with issues mentioned above and therefore express sceptical views towards Dunton Garden Suburb. Apart from the main concerns, many worry that development would bring a transient population and weaken the feel of local community; that development does not include enough jobs to support the increase in population; and that flood risk is not fully assessed.
- 5.8 Concern was expressed that the impacts of development would disproportionately affect existing Basildon Borough residents more than Brentwood Borough residents. There was also the feeling amongst some Basildon residents that this proposal was dumping Brentwood's housing growth in the Basildon area.

APPENDIX 2: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

The following frequently asked questions and responses were set out in Brentwood Council's Borough Bulletin, sent to Brentwood Borough residents in early February. These also appear on Brentwood Council's website.

What is a Garden Suburb?

A development built on the outskirts of an existing settlement, following principles to create neighbourhoods with housing for all tenures (social, rent and private) with enhanced natural environments, local facilities and infrastructure. The concept does not just relate to the design, but is also about ensuring engagement with local communities from early stages, and aiming for long term local stewardship.

Why is Dunton being considered for such a large scale development?

At this stage of the plan-making process the Council must consider all options, including exploring opportunities with neighbouring authorities. This includes Dunton Garden Suburb, which is the name given to a potential option between West Horndon and Laindon (in Basildon Borough). This particular location has come about after we became aware of Basildon's draft Local Plan proposals as part of "Duty to Cooperate" discussions. This legally requires local planning authorities to cooperate on strategic cross boundary issues, such as housing and transport. Their Plan proposed a development of 2,300 homes and employment land up to the Brentwood-Basildon Borough boundary.

Why is another station proposed here when there is already a station at West Horndon?

The diagrams in the document are indicative, and show the principle of development in this location which is being consulted on. A station in this location is not guaranteed. If the proposal goes forward it will depend on public responses and viability amongst other considerations.

Will a Dunton Garden Suburb development just contribute to urban sprawl?

The Council values the Borough's high quality urban environment that residents enjoy. The proposals at Dunton would be in line with "Garden Suburb or City" principles, which place greater importance on maintaining green space around new communities to create a more pleasant environment.

How long would the proposed development at Dunton take to materialise?

It could be up to eight years or more until building work starts on site. It could be up to 15 years or more in total until all proposed development is completed if it goes ahead.
